It is really a sad moment for the Company as we are in a state of mourning for our late colleague and our cherished passengers. We console all bereaved families whiles wishing those injured speedy recovery.

We have our men on the grounds to assist and also to obtain adequate information for further investigation to be carried.

Whilst we leave the Ghana Police to do their investigations, MMT would also use its internal mechanisms to do in-depth investigations into the road traffic crash.

We have also taken steps to take up the medical bills which would arise as a result of the road crash.

All our cherished passengers are encouraged to remain calm because we will continue to adopt all strategies towards remaining the safest, the most reliable and efficient means of transport.

Last year, over 2,000 drivers nationwide were re-trained by MMT in collaboration with the National Drivers' Academy and we would continue to train them until the desired results is achieved.
